Vermicorp Organics ENRICHED SOIL

Specially Formulated For All Marijuana Types

Why strain breeders choose Cannabis Enrichment by Vermicorp Organics!

When it comes to bud quality (color, density, flavor, smell and appearance), growers know that strains are determined mostly by genetics. Growers also realize that to improve the strain's bud quality and to produce the best yield you need to have ideal water holding capacity, nutrient retention and aeration properties.

Vermicorp Organics™ developed an enhancement that builds faster, stronger growth in cannabis strains. Our superior ingredients start with a base of high-quality organic potting soil with coco fiber and mycorrhizae, then we add our organic earth worm castings (our pride & joy) along with top performing ingredients to give your harvest the best tasting buds & strongest of medicines!

- Requiring less fertilizers
- Developing more elaborate & stronger root systems
- More resistant to disease, pathogens & weeds

SATIVA

When choosing your cannabis strain, the biggest factor is the end product you wish to harvest. If you give a variety of different plants the exact same growing environment, the genetics are going to mostly dictate how long buds take to mature. With Cannabis Enrichment™ you can feel confident that you have the best starting base for growth.

RUDERALIS

Vermicorp Organics "super soil" contains all the nutrients your plant will need from seed to harvest so you just need to add water. And, as an added bonus, with our Cannabis Enrichment™ organic grower's mix you don't need to worry about maintaining your pH! Instead, the composting process develops a colony of microorganisms in your soil that will automatically take care of the pH for your plants (as in nature), while slowly providing nutrients on demand. Vermicorp Organics Cannabis Enrichment™ product has been amended so no additional nutrients are needed. Just add water!

INDICA

The Benefits.

- Increases size of the foliage, and root growth of any plant!

- Enhances the strength & taste of cannabis strains
- It's gentle on both plants and the environment. It won't burn seedlings or delicate foliage the way synthetic fertilizers can
- Great for all types of soil - improves growth and increases harvest
